Industrial Strife Presages Crop Of New Strikes During January

Bedenkapp Raps Democrats' Effort On State Program

Charges They Attempt to Copy After Dewey; Governor Scored by Opposition

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Democratic party in New York state advocates a $430,000,000 housing aid program and a $500,000,000 war veterans loan fund, but the Republican state chairman terms these and other proposals a "feeble effort to copy in words the successful action of the state administration."

The Democratic legislative program was outlined by Paul E. Fitzpatrick, state chairman, in a state-wide radio broadcast last night and included a number of other aims which the party will seek at the legislative session opening Wednesday.

Glen R. Bedenkapp, state G.O.P. chairman, made his comments in a statement at Albany following the broadcast.

Announcements of the Democratic proposals came a day after Governor Dewey had announced a plan to slash personal income and business taxes by $119,000,000 and to use an accumulated surplus of nearly $450,000,000 for postwar reconstruction.

Fitzpatrick asserted the governor had "dallied" with the problem of an "accumulated and unnatural surplus" and said the Democrats would call for a "more equitable distribution of state taxes."

The state Democratic leader, who asserted he spoke for his party, said "housing for the returning veteran is our first consideration."

He declared that Dewey "did nothing in the face of an onrushing crisis in housing," adding: "It is time to end Tom's foolery."

Bedenkapp said "New York state has led every state in the nation in sponsoring and actually building temporary housing for returning veterans. While the Democrats both in New York state and in Washington talked big, Governor Dewey gave leadership and action."

Fitzpatrick said the first Democratic bill in the new session would be an appropriation of at least $50,000,000 from the postwar reconstruction fund for emergency housing; ask prompt appropriation of $80,000,000 of the unexpended balance for loans under the housing amendment to the state constitution for slum clearance and low rent housing; submit to the people a proposal for a new $300,000,000 fund for slum clearance and low rent housing, and insure a return on private capital in the housing field.

The Democrats insist on a state rent control law for residential properties in the event O.P.A. rent controls were terminated. He also said his party favored the continuance of rent controls on business, commercial and office properties.

Want Loans For Vets

He said the minority party would propose that the state establish a fund to finance loans up to $2,000 to veterans at interest rates as low as 2 per cent, accepting as "collateral" for repayment of these loans merely the past services rendered by our young men and women. He estimated the fund necessary would be $500,000,000.

Other points listed by Fitzpatrick included:

Continuation of the federal milk subsidy and an immediate and thorough milk investigation by the legislature.

Improvement of health and educational facilities in rural areas.

Cheaper telephone and electric rates and elimination of pole-setting charges.

Comprehensive state health insurance.

Assumption by the state of "its constitutional responsibility" of "bearing its fair share of the cost of the common school system."

Establishment of a "liberal program" of scholarships, primarily for veterans.

Permanent pay increases for Civil Service employees and teachers.

Unemployment insurance at the rate of $23 a week, instead of the present $21, for a maximum of 26 weeks.

"A comprehensive and constructive program for the children and youth of our state."

"Outright grants for educational assistance to children of deceased servicemen."

Honora Gave Order

Mamila, Jan. 4 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Honora gave the order for the execution of the man who killed thousands on the agony-strewn route from Bataan to Camp O'Donnell in April, 1942, one of his staff officers testified at Honora's war-crimes trial today.

Begin Picketing

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Picketing of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation office building at 40 Wall street was begun at 11 a. m. today by some 200 Westinghouse General Electric employees.

Claims He's Champ Picket of Country

Chicago, Jan. 4 (AP)—Alex Orr, 47, said today that he probably is the country's champion picket.

Six days a week for the last three and a half years Orr has been on the job as a picket in front of the Petersen Auto Sales Agency on South Michigan avenue.

Orr estimated that in his picket duty of about one-third of a block alongside the agency's office he had walked enough to have circled the globe twice. He said he liked his job, believes it is good for his health and he meets "all kinds of people."

The picket line was established in 1939 by Local 701 of the A.F.L. Auto Mechanics Union, which charged the agency refused to grant a closed shop. Orr is the third picket who has marched back and forth in front of the agency.

Polish Corridor Obliteration Was Nazis' Main Aim

Marshal von Blomberg Testifies All of Staff Considered It 'Sacred Duty'

Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 4 (AP)—Field Marshal Werner von Blomberg, former German war minister, informed the International Military Tribunal in a affidavit today that the whole group of German general staff officers considered a war to wipe out the Polish corridor was "a sacred duty."

The marshal, who was deposed in 1938 as minister of war because the Fuehrer disapproved of his marriage, said the Polish corridor issue was the primary reason for secret rearmament which began about ten years before Hitler assumed power.

Blomberg is a prisoner of the United States Army of Occupation.

His affidavit was submitted as American prosecutors started the development of one of the most controversial and probably most difficult tasks in the entire trial of the 22 ranking Nazis—the effort to convict the general staff and high command as a criminal organization which willingly lent its services in a Nazi plot to wage aggressive wars.

Frank Statement

Blomberg's affidavit—a remarkably frank statement of the general staff's pre-war aims—said: "From 1933 and particularly from 1934, three critical territorial questions occupied attention in Germany. These were the questions of the Polish corridor, the Ruhr and Memel."

"I myself, as well as the whole group of German staff officers, believed that these three questions outstanding, among which was the question of policy about the corridor, would have to be settled some day, if necessary by force of arms. About 90 per cent of the German people were of the same mind as the officers on the Polish question."

"War to wipe out the desecration involved in the creation of the Polish corridor and to lessen the threat to separated East Prussia, surrounded by Poland and Lithuania, was regarded as a sacred duty through a sad necessity. This was one of the chief

Number of Idle Workers Jumps to 400,000 as President Asks for Action

(By The Associated Press)

New calls for strikes appeared imminent today as tension mounted in the nation's industrial strife.

As President Truman urged the American people to press Congress into action on legislation aimed to curb work stoppages, additional thousands of workers were added to the list of idle because of labor disputes.

New walkouts, hitting at four major industries and involving nearly a million and a half persons, threatened to materialize during January.

The number of workers idle jumped past the 400,000 mark as President Truman in a radio address last night expressed deep concern over the nation's labor unrest.

French troubles appeared as government conciliators and other officials in Washington worked to bring an end to current disputes and to prevent outbreak of impending strikes.

Negotiations Collapse

In Chicago, the C.I.O. Farm Equipment and Metal Workers Union said wage negotiations with the International Harvester Company had collapsed and that "in all likelihood" a strike of 30,000 would be called. Union members in 11 Harvester plants arranged a meeting Sunday to set a date for the walkout.

Another threatened strike came from Akron, O., where officials of the C.I.O. United Rubber Workers of America at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. said a strike vote would be taken Sunday. They said the new ballot was in line with action of other locals throughout the country and was in support of union demands for increased wages.

May Cripple Phones

Meanwhile, the possibility remained of a nation wide walkout of telephone workers, in sympathy with a strike started yesterday by 17,200 employees of the Western Electric Company in 21 plants in New York and New Jersey.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the independent National Federation of Telephone Workers, said the federation's 48 member unions were being polled to authorize a sympathy strike in support of demands for 30 per cent wage hikes by the Western Electric Employees Association, its affiliate.

Beirne said a strike by the

Hull's Note Was Used by Japs As War Excuse

So Testifies Admiral Stark in Investigation; Says Army and Navy Not Informed

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Admiral Harold R. Stark told Congressional investigators of Pearl Harbor today that Secretary of State Hull handed his November 26, 1941 note to the Japanese without first informing the Army or Navy.

This note was later called an "ultimatum" by the Japanese and used as an excuse for war.

"Did Secretary Hull assume the great responsibility personally of handing the 10-point notice to the Japanese without informing the President or the war council?"

4 European Countries Could Eat on What the U.S. Wastes

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 4 (AP)—Enough food is wasted annually in the United States to "feed the five New England States or to feed the hunger-ridden countries of Belgium, Holland, Greece and Czechoslovakia," says Prof. Charles W. Hauck of Ohio State University.

Addressing the New York State Vegetable Growers Association which is meeting simultaneously with the Empire State Potato Club, Hauck said yesterday:

"Wastes on farms, in packing houses, in processing, transportation and storage, in wholesale warehouses and retail stores, in consumers' homes and public eating places add up to:

"Deciduous fruits, 20 per cent; potatoes, 28 per cent; tomatoes and citrus fruits, 33 per cent; leafy, green and yellow vegetables, 43 per cent, and other vegetables, 29 per cent."

Research into methods of checking the waste through mechanized trimming and packaging of fresh fruits and vegetables is

Plans for U.N.O. Here Underway

Local Committees Are Preparing Maps, Air Photographs and Sketches

Cities Make Bids

Communities in Other Places Are Busy With Plans

Local committees, comprised of members of the Board of Directors of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce and other civic-minded citizens, are preparing plans for the reception of the United Nations Organizations delegates, which will view proposed sites in Ulster county for a permanent home for that organization.

Ground maps, aerial photographs, architectural sketches and a prospectus are included in the work of these committees. An inspection of local sites to be emphasized to the sub-committee was also underway today.

The Kingston Chamber of Commerce has appropriated $1,500 for the necessary preparations.

Additional members of the local Advisory Committee are being named and include Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Mayor William F. Edelmuth, Alderman-at-Large John J. Schwenk and Lieut. Col. Bernard A. Culliton.

The local committees report that the sites to be suggested to the U.N.O. Committee meet all the requirements and specifications for the permanent peace home of the world.

The six-member United Nations organization sub-committee assigned to select a site in the eastern United States for the permanent home of the U.N.O. is scheduled to leave London by plane for New York today and arrive at LaGuardia Field tomorrow.

Just when they will visit Kingston and the surrounding area is not known. It has been reported that an aerial view of the entire Hudson Valley will be included in the tentative two-day itinerary of the sub-committee.

Huntington Gilchrist, secretary of the committee, arrived in New York Wednesday, where he established headquarters at the Waldorf Astoria.

Other Communities

Other communities which have made a bid for the U. N. O. home are also making preparations. In Dutchess county a committee is preparing material to be printed for submission to the delegates and in Connecticut similar plans are underway.

The Associated Press reports activity in Connecticut as follows:

Fairfield county's campaign to become the home of the United Nations Organization took shape today after a meeting here at which it was voted to extend Governor Raymond F. Baldwin officially to the U. N. O. Investigating Committee.

Representatives of Ridgefield and Stamford, the two county communities which want to become permanent hosts to the U. N. O., met here last night with state and county officials at the invitation of the Norwalk Chamber of Commerce to discuss their chances.

At least two other Connecticut communities, New Haven and New London, have similar hopes.

Ridgefield has proposed the estate of Mrs. Ruth "Sunny" Cutler in that town, and Stamford set forth that a 7,000-acre site in Mianus Gorge would be ideal.

The meeting named George T. Barrett of Stamford, Ralph Kellogg of the Ridgefield Board of Finance, as a committee to meet the U. N. O. Investigating Committee and explain the advantages of a Fairfield county site.

Sitdown Strike

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Telephone operators of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company here went on a sitdown strike between 10 and 11 a. m. today. The operators were at the switchboards but did not handle any calls. Robert H. Davidson, public relations official for the company, said the strike was called in protest against an order that supervisors assist operators in handling calls to expedite service.

Miners Demand Insurance

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 4 (AP)—A spokesman for Kentucky coal operators predicted here today that "every company will comply with a United Mine Workers demand for insurance coverage on all miners. The demand for such insurance was made yesterday by Sam Caddy, president of District 30, U.M.W., who said the union miners would refuse to work in mines without workmen's compensation insurance."

MacArthur Orders Drastic Shake-up in Jap Government

Pistol Permits Issuance of Pistol Permits Here

Judge Cashion Explains

County Judge John M. Cashion, under whose jurisdiction the Ulster County Pistol Permit Bureau operates, on Thursday supplied the breakdown figures showing the purposes for which pistol permits were issued during 1945.

Judge Cashion stated that the figures would show that there had been no promiscuous issuance of pistol permits in Ulster county and he praised the work of Fred W. Bruhn, clerk of the Pistol Permit Bureau, whom he said was operating the bureau in an efficient manner, cooperating fully with the Court.

During 1945 there were a total of 61 pistol permits issued in the county. All permits were issued after a careful investigation of each application, Judge Cashion said. Of this number 41 were house permits or "possession" permits which must be held by any person owning a pistol and may

Premier's Cabinet to Meet for Action on Purge of Leaders in War Plan

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Jan. 4 (AP)—General MacArthur today decreed a drastic "housecleaning" of Japan's government, and Premier Shidehara's cabinet called an emergency session for tomorrow to consider methods of compliance.

Quoting informed quarters, the Japanese news agency Kyodo said that the two new directives ordering a purge of all men who led Japan into war would affect practically every member of the present government. It expected specifically only Premier Kiuno Shidehara, Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida and Justice Minister Chujo Tawata.

Tokyo newspapers interpreted the Allied orders as a move to give Japan new leaders, and among politicians was one of bewilderment.

It quoted a member of the Progressive party as saying "this practically means that all members of the present Diet will not be able to run in the coming elections."

Homesick Soldiers Blame Patterson for Their Plight

By DON WHITEHEAD

Honolulu, Jan. 4 (AP)—Secretary of War Patterson's replies to demobilization queries of G.I. interviewers today provoked this comment from one soldier:

"If the secretary of war doesn't know the answers, then how in hell can we out here ever hope to find out what's going on?"

Tearing the Pacific, Patterson gave interviews to Army publicists here and at Guam, and men of one unit in Hawaii told interviewers today that they all had agreed to write their congressman on what they assert is Patterson's lack of knowledge of demobilization.

On arriving in Guam on his world tour, Patterson was "comto hear that discharge points have not been accumulating for Army personnel since V-J Day, reported Stars and Stripes, the Army newspaper. It continued:

"Patterson said low point men are accumulating two points a month and will go home when enough have been added."

"Reminded of the September 2 point stoppage, Patterson indicated complete surprise."

Discharge points were frozen as of September 2—date of Japan's formal surrender—but the number required for release from the Army has been dropped from 55 to 30.

In Honolulu, an Army reporter asked Patterson if the War De-

Serious Results Face Nation Unless Full Production Is Had at Early Date

Year of Decision

President Says Public Is Most Powerful Pressure Group

By D. HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—President Truman called on the American people today to demand more action and less talk from Congress on legislation to lessen strikes.

He also told the nation in a half-hour radio address last night that "time is running out" on most of his other reconversion measures because action in Senate and House has been "distressingly slow."

Congress returns January 14 from its holiday adjournment.

"Unless we can soon meet the need of obtaining full production and employment at home," Mr. Truman asserted, "we shall face serious consequences. They will be serious not only in what they mean to the American people as such, but also in what they can do to our position as a leader among the nations of the world."

Therefore, in this "year of decision," Mr. Truman turned to "the most powerful pressure group in the world"—the American people—"the great mass of our citizens who have no special interests, whose interests are only the interests of the nation as a whole."

The President expressed deep concern over present and threatened strikes in the auto, steel, electrical and meat packing industries, declared that war-end promises of cooperation from members of Congress, industry, labor and farm groups "have not all been kept," and concluded:

"We cannot shirk leadership in the postwar world. The problems of our economy will not be solved by timid men, mistrustful of each other. We cannot face 1946 in a spirit of drift or irresolution."

Congressional Comment

First Congressional comment was sharply divided, and not entirely along party lines.

Although Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) said he thought Mr. Truman's address "struck pay dirt" and should spur action "on many vital issues," Senator George (D-Ga.) observed that the outlook is not as "optimistic or dreary as some think."

Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), noting that this is an election year, declared: "The President of the United States, who is a Democrat, has spanked a Democratic Congress. Let's watch the results."

There was no immediate reaction from labor or industry.

In his address, Mr. Truman said that of equal importance with a settlement of management-labor disputes is the question of keeping prices on an even keel.

His 'Pressure Groups'

Hitting at "pressure groups" which he said are lobbying to "take off" price controls, the Chief Executive said these restrictions and those over rents will have to be extended even beyond their June 30 expiration date. So, he said, will controls on scarce materials.

"Today the pressures for inflation are many times stronger than those which caused the inflation after World War I, and which caused the 1920 depression," he asserted.

Calling for prompt action on his December 3 request for legal authority to set up fact-finding boards in major industrial disputes—with strikes to be held in check for 30 days pending board reports—Mr. Truman said:

"Every day that production is delayed and civilian goods are kept from our markets by strikes or lockouts brings injury to our reconversion program. Already millions of dollars in wages have been lost to workers."

"Laboring men and women are using up their savings. It is for these reasons that I urged the Congress to pass this legislation without delay."

After noting that his recommendation is still before Senate and House labor committees, the President said:

People Want Facts

"I am sure, from all the sources of information which I am able to use, that the American people agree with the necessity for some fact-finding legislation along the lines recommended."

"The time has come for every citizen of the United States to make his opinion known to his representative in the Congress. Once that is done, you may be sure that results will follow."

Mr. Truman expressed the Local Planes Are Grounded by Wind Enroute to Miami

The five planes which left the field of the Breese Airways on the Sawkill road at 8 a. m., New Year's day, headed for the air maneuvers at Miami, Fla., January 4, 5 and 6, met strong headwinds and stopped at Camden, S. C., Wednesday night, according to word received by Mrs. Breese yesterday. They were expected to arrive at Miami today and to be gone about ten days.

The planes were Piper Cubs, pilots and student passengers being: Albert Hobush, president of Aircraft Parts and Tools Mfg. Co., accompanied by his uncle, Mr. Schmidt of Mt. Marion; Burton Spray of Kingston, with Richard Till of Mt. Marion; Charles Cooper, who received his license at the Breese airport recently, and his daughter, Nancy, also a pilot, of Woodstock; Miss Ruth Franklin of Woodstock, an instructor at the airport, accompanied by Ward Reynolds of Fleischmanns, a student flyer; Manager William Scott of the Fleischmanns airport, who had with him Earl Johnson of Fleischmanns, a student. Scott's ship was a former Army Air Force glider which had been converted into a Piper Cub.

Farm Groups Place Proposals Before Dewey

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4 (AP)—Representatives of eight major farm groups in New York state put their legislative proposals before Governor Dewey today.

The delegates were from the New York State Conference Board of Farm Organizations, which represents the State Grange, Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association, Grange League Federation Exchange, State Horticultural Society, State Federation of Home Bureaus, State Poultry Council, State Farm Bureau Federation, and State Vegetable Growers Association.

The proposals, announced last month in Ithaca at a conference meeting, included a request that the state pay 75 per cent of snow removal costs and provide year-around roads in all farm regions.

Long Distance Phone Rates Will Be Cut

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4 (AP)—The New York Telephone Company will cut its long distance rates within the state about February 1 in a move designed to bring tolls more nearly within a revision recently announced by the American Telephone and Telegraph in its interstate rates.

New York Telephone's agreement to reduce its rates was announced yesterday by the Public Service Commission. Saving to customers is expected to approximate $600,000 a year.

The commission also said that there was "a probability that independent telephone companies throughout the state will also reduce their toll charges by about $50,000 a year."

Shift to Atlantic

Pearl Harbor, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Navy reported that nine destroyers of famed Squadron 50 were en route east today through the Panama Canal for duty with the Atlantic Fleet. Capt. Harold T. Deuterann of White Plains, N. Y., was in command.

partment contemplated any change in releasing men with two years service on March 20.

Quotes Marshall

"What is the significance of March 20?" Patterson asked. A Stars and Stripes reporter explained that General Marshall had said that two-year men would be released by late winter and that statement later was made more specific with an announcement of March 20 as the definite date.

The secretary said shipping was "a limiting factor" in the rate of Pacific demobilization, adding that there still is a shortage of shipping in the Pacific.

The Army reporter then asked the secretary to reconcile that statement with those by Navy officials that there is a surplus of shipping in the Pacific and that, as a result, the Navy is retiring certain ships which had been used as transport vessels.

"The Army Transportation Corps is doing its very utmost," Patterson said. "I know nothing of the Navy."

Won't Build Hopes

Patterson said that the Army, unlike the Navy, could not give advance announcements of point reductions through February "in the interest of accuracy and in order not to arouse hopes that cannot be fulfilled."

The secretary professed surprise too when told that the adjutant general's office in Washington now is handling all emergency furloughs.

"I thought the theatre commander still had power to grant such furloughs," Patterson said.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JANUARY 4, 1946

WHAT'S YOUR LIFE WORTH?

The year just closed has seen 29,000 people killed and more than 1,000,000 injured in traffic accidents, according to an announcement from the Chicago headquarters of the National Safety Council. This is an increase of 20 per cent over 1944. The traffic toll went up 40 per cent in November alone. Connecticut had 235 deaths in 1945 as contrasted with 176 for 1944. New York state had 1,144 deaths last year and 1,044 the year before.

Ned Dearborn, president of the council, is discouraged, saying that people seem to learn nothing from accident figures and reports. "They continue to believe," he says, "that a tank full of gasoline carries automatic insurance against the consequences of foolish behavior on the highways."

With tire rationing now off and new cars coming—when, as and if strikers will let them—1946 accident figures doubtless will soar over 1945's. And the people who smash into their fellows usually are as careless about carrying insurance to cover the damages they make as they are at managing their wheels and accelerators.

Is not life worth an extra ten minutes on a trip?

"Can the Japs be salvaged?" asks an American writer. Well, it's a big jump from savage to salvage, but maybe it can be done in time.

GOOD EATING

Sure, there's something substantial and soul-satisfying about getting back home to what we used to call "God's Country," and what might also be known to the world as the "Land of Good Eating." The half has never been told. One American epicure, newly landed from the war zone, reports that he is so overwhelmed by the good things to eat available in this bountiful land, that he is rationing himself to only one new luxury a day, so as to make the sensation of gastronomic discovery and enjoyment last as long as possible.

It would be an interesting experiment for some American hero to make a real job of this business, and spend a few weeks or months going around collecting memoranda of all the glorious edibles available to the north, south, east and west, sampling them and discovering their special merits, and telling where to find them—a sort of postwar, emotional Duncan Hines.

It is well known by this time that French eating, long praised as best in the world, has gone into a sad decline in these latter years. Where should there be a glorious resurrection of the gastronomic art, if not in America?

Sure, spare tires can be bought again. All you need is the money and someone who has a tire he's willing to sell.

TROUBLE WITH CONGRESS

What Congress needs, says Representative Clifton A. Woodrum of Roanoke, Va., who is just retiring after 20 years of service, is higher salaries and pensions for former Congressmen.

That may be what Congressmen need, but not Congress. While a better scale of payment might bring in better men and is not unreasonable in itself, the trouble with Congress is its organization. Representative Woodrum is an example of this. The rule of seniority has kept him out of committee chairmanships which went to men who were less qualified, but who had served longer. Then there is the system which enables committees to bottle up needed legislation without giving the House a chance to vote on it. Sometimes the House may vote but is not allowed to make amendments. And much legislation is passed or killed in the Committee-of-the-Whole, where no record is taken of individual votes. All these defects would still exist if Congressional salaries were raised, and would still prevent efficient operation.

'These Days'

By George E. Sokolsky

THE VICAR OF IRAY
Neville Chamberlain and his umbrella went down in history as the great appeaser. He met Hitler at Munich and his compromise did not, in the end, give the world peace. True, his country gained a slight respite to prepare for war, but when war came, England was not prepared and Churchill took over without compromise, with blood and sweat and tears. There are issues over which moral men do not compromise.

The United States now is led by the greatest compromiser of all time, Jimmy Byrnes. He will compromise anything. He went to Moscow with great bargaining power, with atoms and dollars and food. He returned from Moscow with his pockets empty and inside out. He had stood up for principle at the end of the London Conference and came home to the adage, "Millions for defense—not one cent for tribute." He returns from Moscow having conceded every point the Russians wanted. He has even given seven powers a veto over MacArthur, in spite of the fact that the Russians, for instance, were in the Far Eastern war for five days only. He has double-crossed the Koreans. He has set up a crazy arrangement over the atomic bomb.

Jimmy Byrnes says that there were no secret agreements at Moscow. There did not need to be any, unless it is a promise to grant the Russians a $6,000,000,000 "loan" after the British gift has been approved by Congress. Just think. In the Atlantic Charter it was stated that every country was entitled to a government of its own choosing. And in President Truman's Navy Day speech, he said:

"We believe in the eventual return of sovereign rights and self-government to all people who have been deprived of them by force."

"We shall approve no territorial changes in any friendly part of the world unless they accord with the freely expressed wishes of the people concerned."

"We believe that all peoples who are prepared for self-government should be permitted to choose their own form of government by their own freely expressed choice, without interference from any foreign source. That is true in Europe, in Asia, in Africa, as well as in the Western Hemisphere."

"By the combined and cooperative action of our war allies, we shall help the defeated enemy states establish peaceful democratic governments of their own free choice. And we shall try to attain a world in which Nazism, Fascism and military aggression cannot exist."

"We shall refuse to recognize any government imposed upon any nation by the force of any foreign power. In some cases it may be impossible to prevent forcible imposition of such a government. But the United States will not recognize any such government."

But at Moscow, Jimmy Byrnes agreed to instruct countries what kind of governments they are to have—not only conquered but liberated countries. That has become a State Department habit since Mr. Byrnes has become its head. He has instructed China, he has instructed the Argentine; he has joined in instructing Romania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia. He has set the Russians over Japan, Korea and China. He is meddling in things he cannot control; he is messing up the policy of his country. The Great Compromiser has become the Great Confuser.

It is such a pity that a nation of unique talent suffers government by mediocrity. Did Mr. Byrnes consult this country's leading authorities on its international relations? Apparently, for no one seems to have been consulted except those who, having tried for a decade to remake their own country, are now devoting themselves to remaking the world. Of course, when the secretary of war, Mr. Patterson, can pick up courage to say of Mr. MacArthur that "it is not necessary that he be consulted in advance" concerning the Far Eastern situation, with regard to which he is America's leading authority, then it becomes clear that these tired American bureaucrats have become so arrogant as to have lost their sense of proportion. As between Byrnes and Patterson on one side and MacArthur on the other, what will be America's choice? Can anyone guess?

MENTAL CASES

Although the family of a patient confined to a mental institution would give anything or endure anything to see their loved one cured, many hesitate to have them undergo shock treatment which causes convulsions with sometimes the breaking of a bone. While the electric shock is practically instantaneous and is liked better by patients than is the shock caused by insulin or metrazol, nevertheless even the electric shock method is feared by the family. It will come as some relief to learn of another method of treating mental patients; it is a mild form of electric shock.

Drs. Esther B. Tietz, G. N. Thompson, A. Van Harnveld, and C. A. Wiersma, in American Journal of Psychiatry say that a means to increase the benefit obtained by electric shock was sought in electrocardiography. This is a method of prolonged application of the electric current to the brain causing a "controlled" state of unconsciousness after a slight electric shock convulsion. More than 100 of these electrocardiographic treatments were given in 9 patients without serious complications, and "it was concluded that the method is without danger when cautiously applied."

A series of 47 cases of schizophrenia-dementia precox—inability to face life's responsibilities were studied in which 1,000 treatments were given without a single death and no serious complications occurred. The results obtained in this series of 47 cases by the electrocardiographic method were superior to those expected of electric shock treatments, and equal to those obtained by insulin shock treatments.

Now it is known that of every 10 patients entering a mental hospital, 6 were able to return home by the ordinary or routine treatment given before the days of any form of shock treatment. However, in cases where no improvement occurs the various methods of shock treatment have given excellent results. And this new method of electrocardiography is a boon to patient and family who have opposed shock treatment.

Out of Reach

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Captain James Murdock on October 31, 1923, retired as keeper of the lighthouse at the mouth of the Rondout creek, and made his home in Brooklyn, where he died some years ago.

He began his life as a light keeper as a boy when he was employed by the Rome and Tremper Line and the Cornell Line to post the lights on the dykes along the Rondout creek. This work was later taken over by the federal government, and added to the duties of the keeper of the light.

Captain Murdock was born in the old frame lighthouse on the other side of the creek, which has long since disappeared. When the lighthouse was destroyed, the old stone structure was erected opposite the present lighthouse, but further inland and the Murdock family carried on as light-keepers.

At the time of his father's death, his mother was appointed lighthouse keeper, and Capt. Murdock was appointed her assistant, a post he held until his mother's death when he became keeper of the light.

The present lighthouse at the mouth of the creek was erected in 1913, and Captain Murdock and his wife moved from the old structure to the new light, and he remained in charge until he retired in 1923.

Captain Murdock spent his entire working life in lighthouses and at the time he retired from service he said that he intended to take a vacation, something he had never been able to do, as he always had to be on the job seeing to it that the beams from the light illuminated the waters of the Rondout creek.

A big business change took place on central Broadway on October 17, 1923, when Felix Ambrose & Sons of Cordis street, took title to the two-story frame building at 362-364 Broadway, opposite Brewster street, which at the time housed the confectionery store and ice cream parlors of Joseph Sheppard; the barbershop of Henry Thomas, and the shoe repairing shop of Samuel Stockman on the first floor, while the second floor of the building was used for home apartments.

Ephraim G. Adams died on October 6, 1923, in his home on Pine street. For a number of years he had been engaged in the manufacture of mattresses on lower Hinchbrough avenue, and later manufactured men's clothing in the building. When he disposed of that business he opened a plant on Field Court for the manufacture of concrete laundry tubs, and conducted the business until it was absorbed by the Nu-Stone Products Corp., when Mr. Adams retired from active business.

During the many years Mr. Adams was engaged in business in the city he became widely and favorably known.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

January 1, 1926—William R. Harrison of Pearl street, died in Kingston Hospital of injuries sustained when he crashed under an automobile on December 19, 1925. He was a widely known business man and president of W. R. Harrison & Co., wholesale grocers, on Field Court.

Death of Withelmia Lemister of Hinchbrough avenue. Mrs. Hannah Whitaker died in her home in East Kingston. Willis Ror elected president of Executive House Co.

January 5, 1926—Death of Mrs. Charles B. Newell of 42 Henry street. There had been a total rainfall of 31.28 inches in Kingston in 1925, according to city engineer's records.

David Cole of Saugerties reported to police he had been struck by a train on the Cornell street crossing. The car was wrecked and he escaped with injuries to his arm and hand.

A G.O.P. CLUB POSES A REAL ISSUE

The Allen County Republican Club (Ft. Wayne, Indiana) has posed an investigation to cut through all the propaganda and hokey of our half century of catastrophic adventuring in internationalism. This could become a straight issue between those who believe that American economy is sunk in the world morass and those who believe that it can still stand high and superior. It exposes the cockeyed contradiction put out by our internationalists that we cannot live any better than the rest of the world, but that we do now live so much better that we now must vote greater chunks of our wealth to those who are destitute in other hemispheres.

The Allen County Republican Club asks:

- (1) How nearly self-sufficient economically is the United States?
- (2) How nearly self-sufficient economically can the United States be if we use our own synthetic or imported products in place of imported raw materials, such as rubber?
- (3) Have the American people lost wealth or gained wealth through their intense pursuit of foreign trade during the past half century?

The Allen County Republican Club suggests: Since the Administration now wants Congress to vote huge drawing powers upon our wealth and materials to foreign nations, giving as the sole reason the necessity of recreating foreign trade, let's investigate whether or not such foreign trade, if it did spring up again, would help or destroy our industry and wage and living standard of our workers.

The Allen County Republican Club calls upon the Republican National Fact Finding Committee of Seven to demand the creation of a Senate committee to determine for the information of American employers and workers the following information:

- (1) Determine the raw materials we lack and their importance to our domestic needs of production and employment.
- (2) Outline a sound schedule of acquisitions and peacetime program for building up stockpiles of these cold facts, recommend to what extent the proposed program would permit us to enter into a world government—to which we have been committed, (but the opening phases of which have met with disagreement among the leading powers).

By acting upon this grass roots suggestion from Indiana, national G.O.P. leaders might well make one of the most factual contributions to the cause of world peace in recorded history, as well as a real issue to put before voters for the campaign of 1946.

It might be proved that in the present state of technology, foreign trade is not necessary to national existence—and therefore "lebensraum" and colonies need not be fought for either by ourselves, by other nations, or ourselves in support of other nations!

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Manila, Jan. 4 (AP)—Leaves from a correspondent's notebook: Harvey R. Dunn is "the man with the missing finger."

They were separated 37 years ago and Harvey would like to forget the whole business, but people won't let him. He now is 51 and has been in show business since he was 14. He is a stocky, middle-aged pleasant voiced man, very gentle and well-liked by other members of the cast in the U.S.O. show "Three Men on a Horse."

Harvey has sung in male quartets, acted in repertory and stock companies and Chautauqua shows, traveled from one end of the country to another as a chuck-lark entertainer and musician and handled a fair laundry business in Gainesville, Fla.

People don't ask him about his career. They don't even say "Harvey," wasn't it hard for you to palm cards during your magic act with one finger missing?

No, sooner or later, they look at the blank space where his right forefinger used to be, and ask in a low voice, full of sympathy and curiosity:

"Really now Harvey, how did that happen that injured you

Truman's Lack of Leadership Forcing Country Into Era of Inflation Which Can Be Disastrous

By DAVI LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 4.—President Truman's analysis of what is blocking economic progress at the moment places the responsibility on congress, and he asks the American people to put pressure on the legislative body. But his explanation will be disputed.

The truth is that Mr. Truman is himself responsible for the present unbalanced economy. His lack of leadership and his failure to hold the scales even is forcing the United States into an era of inflation which can be disastrous. When the President retraces his own steps and reconsiders wartime controls, he will find himself in a position of leadership sufficiently powerful to deal with all contingencies. Mr. Truman in his message says:

"We are all anxious to eliminate controls just as rapidly as we can do so. The steps that we have already taken show that. But price and rent controls will have to be maintained for many months to come, if we hope to maintain a steady and stable economy. The line must be held."

Must Regulate All Factors
Yet the President must know that one of the big elements in prices is labor cost and that there simply cannot be a steady and stable economy unless all factors are regulated, including wages. The nonchalance with which Mr. Truman cast out the War Labor Board and the entire wage and salary stabilization policy last August is the real cause of the present crisis in labor-management relations.

The administration forced the crisis by precipitating industry into a situation where it was faced with new demands for wages before it could find out what the peacetime production levels would be. If ever there was a situation that called for gradual transition from wartime to peacetime conditions, it was in the handling of the stabilization program. An extension of the stabilization program was absolutely imperative, but Mr. Truman yielded to bad advice and thought he was doing a popular thing by throwing off the wage controls.

Must Stabilize Wages
Nobody likes wage controls any more than they like price controls. But the President still has the power, without any further action by congress, to issue executive orders stabilizing wages and putting an end to the wage-inflation spiral that threatens to undermine the entire economic structure. Along with that the cost of things purchased for household use will not be out of reach of the worker's income. A promise of eventual release of controls should be based on a time when production shall have reached satisfactory levels.

The President's proposal for a Fact-Finding Board to get at the facts in labor disputes is a desirable thing but Mr. Truman's reaction much on that proposition. Along with it must go some other reforms, such as a writing of the rules of collective bargaining and some means of ending the illegal picketing that makes bad feeling and causes management to become lawless, too.

Criticism Won't Help
Mr. Truman will not get very far by criticizing congress. The body responds to public opinion and at the moment there are no signs that the public is any better informed on where the responsibility lies for the present inflation than is the President. Congress is divided because it knows Mr. Truman's proposals are inadequate and yet it fears, because of the power of pressure groups, to supplement them.

On many an occasion when the war was on, the chief executive found it necessary to use emergency powers without going to congress for specific authority or question. As long as these powers are still in existence, congress would not venture to repeat them when they are used to steady and stabilize the national economy. Mr. Truman would be on safer ground if he asserted his wartime powers and then challenged congress to repeat them without providing any substitute plan. As it is, the President has all the power necessary and yet declines to exercise it. He nevertheless asks congress to take the responsibility for adopting a program that he must realize doesn't go to the root of our economic difficulties.

BABSON ON BUSINESS

BABSON DISCUSSES NEW IDEAS

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 4.—At the close of each year I like to go through the various interesting inventions of the preceding year. They always give me inspiration and make me certain that there are opportunities enough for those who will use their heads and legs. I will not discuss atomic bombs or radar or electronics or plastics or other things which have been discussed in the papers and magazines. Rather, I take the apparently insignificant things in the belief that they, in the aggregate, may do much more for individual readers of my column.

Suggestions for G.I. Men
One of the simplest, and yet may be revolutionary, is the development of confections, cakes and other food products by the use of starch sponge. To jump to the other side of the spectrum, we find the use of fog to put out fires. May I continue without comment: Nonbreakable incandescent lamp bulbs . . . ice boxes with revolving interiors . . . electric switches which work with a delayed action of a glass strips like venetian blinds . . . a new "smoke screens" to protect orchards and groves against frosts and insects . . . paint mixed with D.D.T. to kill flies and mosquitoes.

A year ago I mentioned the new art of recording music, messages, etc. on magnetized wire; well this is now on the market. A new one that hasn't yet been marketed is truly hole-proof stockings made out of ramie instead of cotton or rayon . . . a machine for projecting reading matter on the ceiling so you can read actually lying down . . . new methods of home heating where the heat radiates through the plaster, eliminating registers, radiators, etc. . . a new "packaged kitchen" whereby the refrigerator, stove, incinerator and dish washer will be part of the same machine.

A new flooring known as stoneblock which can be applied directly over concrete floors avoiding dust and cracking is a new machine to automatically figure dividends, pay rolls and do billing at the speed of 4,000 per hour.

Salesmen vs. Inventors
As the vacuum cleaner just grandma's which broom out of against being gipped at meal time.

If the stewards at each meal started serving the same man at each table first, he would always naturally get the choice selections of steak and tidbits. Little things like that can cause quarrels when you are at sea for long stretches.

So, prevent any unfairness each table on the officers' wardroom has a small brass or stainless steel serving stick. It is a guide for the steward, showing him where to start serving first and it rotates around the table for officer to officer on a daily basis.

No one seems to know when the custom began but it is just one of many small courtesies aboard ships designed to keep down tempers and avoid petty favoritism.

One Red Cross girl with large feet has decided to jump bungee from a pretty high point and carry a steel shoe which is one of the most prized of Red Cross

During the war, the shipbuilding industry was the biggest user of steel, consuming more than 1,000,000 tons.

Horticultural Meeting Here Last of January

Fruit growers will have an opportunity to obtain the latest information on both production and marketing at the 91st annual meeting of the New York State Horticultural Society meeting in Kingston, January 30, 31, and February 1.

The meetings this year will be held in the City Hall and Municipal Auditorium, the same as last year, and there will be time for questions and discussions after each speaker. The usual question box period will be held each day at 9:30 and 1:30. The other sessions will start promptly at 10 and 1:45 each day.

The features of this year's program are as follows:

Wednesday morning, January 30—How frost injury was avoided in 1945 will be discussed by Hudson Valley growers who tried different methods in 1945; some worked and some didn't. Professor M. E. Hoffman will discuss the effect of the 1945 season on 1946 and 1947, and what growers can do about it.

Wednesday afternoon—What D.D.T. will and will not do. This is a new insecticide, but some insects build up more with D.D.T. than with the regular spray program.

Growers will want to find out when and how to use this material. W. H. Palmer, assistant agricultural agent for Ulster county, will preside at the session.

Thursday morning, January 31—Control of apple scab. Most growers had more scab in 1945 than ever before, and they will want to learn how to do a better job in 1946 than they have done in the past.

Thursday afternoon—M. P. Rasmussen, of the Department of Agricultural Economics at Cornell will report on the fruit situation; J. J. Willaman, from the eastern research laboratory at Philadelphia, will discuss some new products from apples; Dr. A. J. Heinicke, head of the Geneva Experiment Station will tell what the college and experiment station are doing and plan to do for fruit growers.

Friday morning, February 1—Devoted to how growers can get and hold labor and to what is new in spray and dust machinery. Illustrated talks on the Cornell sprayer-dispersers will be presented.

Friday afternoon—Devoted to pointers in operating farm storages and to control of disease on peaches, cherries, grapes and currants.

Publishes News Letter

In addition to its regular functions, the Horticultural Society also publishes a news letter every month or two. These are edited by the associate secretary, T. F. La Mont of Albion, a grower, and during the winter, a member of the staff of the Agricultural Economics, Department at Cornell. These letters give information that is not available from other sources, and are written in a brief concise form. They are sent free to members of the society.

Persons not able to attend the Kingston meeting in January may send their membership fee of $3 to Roy McPherson, secretary, LeRoy, N. Y.

NEW PALTZ

New Paltz, Jan. 4—Members of the Study Club and guests met at the Reformed Church on Tuesday of last week for the business meeting and candlelight service. The new president, Mrs. Perry Wilson, presided over the session in the Sunday school rooms. The ladies then went to the church where the beautiful wreaths, greens and red carnations made a fitting setting for the lighted candles.

The program, directed by Mrs. Gordon Pine, opened with a piano and organ duet played by Mrs. Arthur Kurtz and Mrs. D. C. Seiwald on a Christmas fantasy by Kohlman, with familiar carols interwoven through the theme. Following this, a choir composed of Mrs. Paul Kurtz, Mrs. Glanz, Mrs. Dressel and Mrs. Millham, sang several traditional carols. Mrs. Gordon Pine gave an original reading "The Real Meaning of Christmas." In it she expressed her personal joy for the season of the Nativity and all its meaning to mankind. She concluded her talk on a note of hope for peace to a war weary world and good will to men of all nations and creeds.

Another group of carols were sung, ending with "Silent Night, Holy Night." Dainty refreshments served from a festively decked table with lighted candles and poinsettia centerpiece made a friendly and attractive gathering place for exchanging greetings with one another. Mrs. Bertha Dennison and committee were in charge of refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Welsz attended a Christmas party at the Art Directors Club on December 19. They also attended a party at the Lawrence Studios while in New York.

Joseph Tighe has purchased the Campus Luncheonette from Mr. and Mrs. George Branigan and opened for business on January 2. Miss Elaine Kniffen spent the weekend in New York as the guest of Miss Dorothy Quinn and her mother.

Mrs. Benjamin is a patient in Hackett's Sanitarium in Kingston. John and Elizabeth Taylor have purchased the property where they now reside on the west side of Grove street in New Paltz from Mrs. Lizzie Van Noddall of Walden.

The people of Gardiner and New Paltz contributed 837 cans of food for the war stricken people of Europe and the Far East.

LT. Gilbert Bevier is home on a 45-day furlough. He flew back to the States two weeks ago to spend Christmas here with his wife and daughter. Later they departed for Georgia to spend some time at his wife's home.

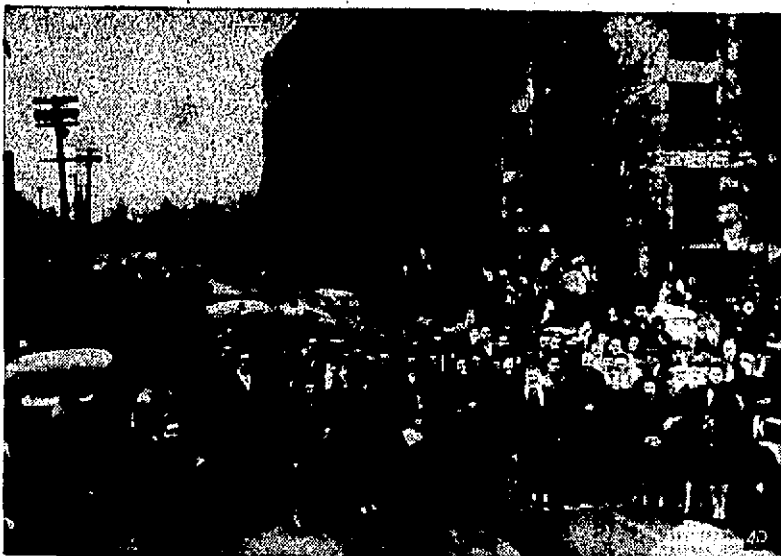

About 75 representatives of the Ladies' Aid, the Dutch Guild of the Reformed Church and the women of the Ohioville Fellowship gathered in the church basement for a joint Christmas meeting last Thursday. A film depicting the Life of Jesus was shown. Delicious refreshments were served by the Ladies' Aid. In response to a plea made by Carol Dressel, home

Hi, Men! HERE'S SOMETHING FOR YOU!

Look, gang, do you have trouble starting the car during cold weather—get out there in the morning, kick the thing around and nothing happens? Most likely you run the battery down and, at the same time, run out of language. This shouldn't happen to a dog!

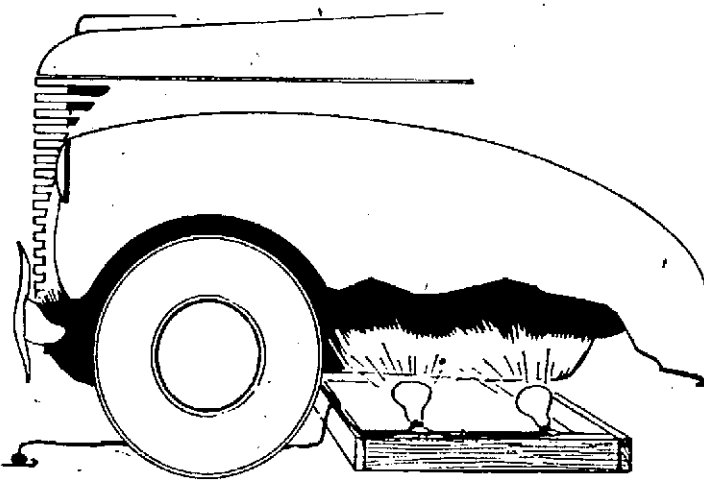

Here's the dope on a heater you can build yourself in an hour or two that will make the old heap think summer is just around the bend. Get yourself some infra-red heat lamps, a piece of lumber, some wire and sockets and stick 'em together like this:

Place this on the floor of the garage under the crankcase of the car. With the swivel sockets point the lamps so that the heat rays hit the sides and bottom of the crankcase. A quarter-hour of this treatment before hitting the starter will have that congealed oil mopping its brow. Instead of commencing the day on a sour note, your day will be beautiful!

A few words of caution. Lamps should be mounted to the side of the crankcase; otherwise cold oil or water dripping on a lamp may break the glass, although you should buy lamps resistant to this sort of shock. They are available in some stores. Today's cars are built so close to the ground that care must be used in aiming the lamps so that no part of the car will strike them when you drive in or out. The dimensions shown are only approximate but they will do for a majority of popular cars. Any outfit built for a particular car should be built to fit that particular car.

If you need further help . . . well, you know where to come!

HERE'S THE STUFF YOU NEED—

get it at any electrical equipment store . . . except the lumber, of course:

- | | |
|---|----------------------------|
| 4—R40 250-watt Heat Lamps | Priced approx. $1.75 each |
| 4—Swivel Sockets on 3 1/4" box cover plates | .95 " |
| Enough No. 14 2-conductor rubber covered extension cord to reach from under the car to the nearest outlet | 8c to 12c per foot |
| 1—Standard Connection Plug | .25 |
| 1—10 foot piece 2" x 4" lumber | 1.00 |

Note to snow-shovelers or others who develop muscular aches . . .

One of these lamps placed in a bridge lamp (remove the shade) and trained on the affected part will help give the ache the business!

Y Cagers Face High Scoring Wappingers Club Saturday

Rudy York's Trade Sends Greenberg Back to First Base

Detroit, Jan. 4 (AP)—Hank Greenberg, the Detroit Tigers' story-book slugger, is due to be back at his old first base stand for the World Champions in 1946. Rudy York, 32-year-old Tiger first baseman whose fielding flaws forced Greenberg to move into the outfield in 1940 to give York a position he could play, was sent to the Boston Red Sox yesterday in a straight player swap for shortstop Eddie Lake.

Thus York ends a colorful nine-year Tiger career in which he spent three seasons learning he couldn't catch, play third base or the outfield before finally catching on at first.

Greenberg volunteered to shift from first base to the outfield in the 1940 season to give York a chance for a regular berth at first. On his return from the Army last summer Greenberg went back to the outfield, where he helped the Tigers to the American League pennant and a world championship over the Chicago Cubs.

Lake, 28-year-old right-hand hitter who clubbed out 11 home runs and compiled a .279 batting average with the Red Sox last year, gives the Tigers added infield strength with which to open defense of their American League championship, York, batted .264 last summer and hit 18 homers.

"It's a good trade for both clubs—the kind of a deal that helps baseball," Tiger Manager Steve O'Neill said last night at a press party honoring George M. Trautman, new Detroit general manager.

USO Stars Lose 2-1

Manila, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Manila Dodgers outlasted the touring USO big leaguers to win a 2-1 inning baseball game yesterday, 2 to 1. Zig Emery, property of the New York Giants, won the game with a run-scoring single.

Feller's School Set

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 4 (AP)—Seventy-seven players from 26 states plan to attend the free baseball school scheduled to open here January 20 under the direction of Bob Feller, Cleveland Indian hurler. On the faculty with Feller are Dizzy Dean and Spud Chandler.

Better Bowling

By Billy Sixty

Varying Speeds: The condition of a bowling alley surface determines the type of delivery to be used—a fast ball, one of medium speed, or a slower ball. The seasoned bowler knows instinctively, through long practice, how to adapt himself to all conditions.

He senses what to do after delivering one ball at normal speed. If the ball breaks inward abruptly (hooks) he immediately increases its speed, without changing his position or stance. He develops speed by slowing up his footwork—taking slower steps—thereby increasing the length of his backswing and naturally adding momentum to the forward swing.

He knows also that when the ball does not hook readily the alley surface is smooth and that he must reduce the speed of the ball to allow for a wider break. To do this he shortens his backswing, merely by quickening his pace, or his stride. The steps, in other words, are a little faster and the swinging arc is reduced.

By varying speeds, the experienced bowler avoids changing his position (stance) on the runway (approach) or at the foul line. More than that, he maintains uniform wrist turn and control. (Protected by John F. Dille Co.)

20,000 New Homes

Philadelphia, Jan. 4 (AP)—Approximately 20,000 new homes will be built in Pennsylvania in 1946, says Frank J. Smith, president of the Pennsylvania Home Builders' Association. Smith told the Philadelphia Real Estate Board yesterday, however, that home building will not reach its full construction peak until after 1949.

Grid Meeting

Chicago, Jan. 4 (AP)—Club owners and other officials of the new All America Football Conference planned a meeting today in Chicago. Chief business before the conference during a three-day meeting included selection of a 10th member and adoption of a playing schedule for the league's opening next fall.

Mrs. Chidsey Asks
Support of Dance

Mrs. R. Frederic Chidsey, president of Kingston Hospital Auxiliary in the following letter to The Freeman asks community support for the Auxiliary Dance to be resumed this year:

"It is with pleasure that the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary announces it will resume holding its Mid-Winter Dance Saturday evening, February 2, at Governor Clinton Hotel.

"During the war years, the dance was discontinued, and drives were put on, to raise money for the Auxiliary's work. The public generously contributed to these drives and the projects at Kingston Hospital speak for themselves. The auxiliary is sincerely grateful for the part the public played to make these things possible. However, it feels the time has come when the public in making donations to our auxiliary, would appreciate the fact that they might enjoy an evening of pleasure in addition to their generosity by attending the dance, and thereby enjoy an evening of superb music and dancing by the Meyer Davis orchestra of New York City.

"Recently the auxiliary had laid a new flooring of linoleum in the women's ward, and with the new paper, and freshly painted wood work, it is in A-1 condition. Two returns from the public were used to completely refurnish the diet kitchen on the second floor. This is a first class modern diet kitchen, which should last for years. This was an enormous task, but most necessary to the nurses in caring for patients on the second floor.

"We appeal to the public at this time for funds to carry on our work for the coming year. Kingston Hospital is more in need of funds at this time, than ever before. As this is the one time in the year, when the auxiliary appeals publicly for assistance, as president of the auxiliary, I earnestly ask your generous response and co-operation to make our efforts a huge success.

"It is with pride that I am able to announce that the General Co-Chairmen of the Dance for 1946 will be Mrs. Frederic Holcomb and Mrs. Parker K. Brinner. With earnest efforts of these Chairmen and their committees, who will contact the public soon, I feel assured the Dance will be the huge social success it has always been, when the results of the campaign of the Auxiliary workers are revealed."

Descendants of Old
Ulster Families Engaged

New Paltz, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Arthur Allen Smith of Poughkeepsie announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Barbara Smith to Charles Alexander Kehr, Jr., U.S.N.R., son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Kehr, Hopewell Junction. No wedding date has been set.

Miss Smith is the daughter of the late Arthur Allen Smith and sister of Dr. Arthur Anthony Smith who is now interning at Vassar Hospital. She was graduated from Poughkeepsie High School and is a senior at Vassar College. During the war she served as a hostess at the Masonic Service Men's Center in New York City. Miss Smith is directly descended from Elder William Brewster, leader of the Plymouth Colony; from Gov. Thomas France, one of the early governors of Plymouth Colony; from Hugh Freer, one of the original French Huguenot Patentees of New Paltz; from Jonas Freer and Petrus Schoonmaker who served in the Ulster County Militia during the American Revolution and from Elisha E. Smith, member of Dutchess County Militia during the Revolutionary War.

Seaman Kehr attended Beacon High School, Deane Academy, Mass., and expects to continue his studies following his discharge. He enlisted in the navy April 1943, and served for 10 months in the European Theatre of Operations, in 1944. He participated in amphibious assaults during the D-Day invasion at Omaha Beachhead and at St. Lo. He is now stationed at Corpus Christi, Tex. Seaman Kehr is also directly descended from old Revolutionary families of Hallowell and Head as well as the Greene family of Rhode Island and the Morris family of Morristown, N. J. One of his direct ancestors is Edward Hallowell, one of the founders of the first Quaker Church in Ulster county.

PUBLIC USE OF ANOTHER'S
NAME NOT TRIFLING

The following letter brings another question never asked me before: "One of the young women in our office has taken to practical joking on a large scale. Her latest prank was to send a letter to a syndicated newspaper column, signed with my name. The publication of this has caused me much embarrassment. The fact that I see nothing funny in the situation is taken as evidence that I lack a sense of humor. What can be done to check her and at the same time not make things too unpleasant here in the office?"

Not only do I agree with the writer of this letter, but it seems to me that such misuse of her name is so serious an offense as to justify asking a lawyer's advice and repeating his opinion to her as being the best way to check the exuberance of her fun-making.

Not Unusual Expense of Bride
Dear Mrs. Post: Is a bride supposed to charge for the wedding pictures given to attendants? If not, how does she go about collecting the money for them?

Answer: Usually each bridesmaid is told that the proofs of the wedding pictures can be seen if she would like to order one or she is asked to make her choice and this then is made up and sent from the bride's family. Comparatively few families can afford to give many—or even any!

Table Service Questions
Dear Mrs. Post: At a hotel the other day I was served a large plate on which were two vegetables and a little baking dish with creamed fish. (1) Should I have removed the fish to the plate or eaten it out of the dish? (2) When coffee is served in individual pots, should the man pour the coffee for both his wife and himself? Or should each pour his own?

Answer: (1) You can remove it or not as you please. Usually it is removed and the waiter takes the empty dish away. If there is no place to put the empty dish except on the tablecloth, it would be better to leave the dish on the plate and eat from it. (2) Usually the coffee pouring is done by the woman just as the carving is done by the man, but there is no rule against a husband pouring his own if he prefers or even against her carving!

Music Group Hears Topic
On Schubert and His Works

The Music Appreciation Group of the Y.W.C.A. met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Eitel on Albany avenue. Miss Helen Sheldon had the entire program and gave an interesting talk on the life and works of Franz Schubert.

Schubert, born of poor parents had a prodigious faculty for incessant writing and rapid completion of composition. Miss Sheldon noted. He had been known to complete several songs in a day. His "Unfinished Symphony" is one of his most popular and finest works. He wrote seven symphonies, two incomplete more than 20 sonatas and a number of string quartets; six masses and other large and fine examples of church music; as well as several opera overtures. He learned so easily and was such a genius he seemed to know instinctively what others learned by hard work. His "Unfinished Symphony" is symbolic of Schubert's life. Miss Sheldon believes. Schubert accomplished more than most musicians do in a long life.

Following the discussion, Miss Sheldon played the recordings of the "Unfinished Symphony" played by the Boston Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Serge Koussevitzky.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, 290 Pearl street, January 17. The topic for the day will be Cesar Franck.

Pistol Permits In Ulster County

Issued under Sub. 8, Section 17, of the Penal Law to any holder, storekeeper or manager of good moral character, this type of permit allows the applicant to possess a pistol but does not permit carrying it. Twenty of these "possession" permits were granted to Kingston people, one of which was for a business man and 16 for home possession. The remaining 27 "possession" permits were issued to persons residing in the county and were all for home possession. Twenty permits were issued to carry a pistol under provisions of Sub. 9, Section 1897, of the Penal Law. Four of these were issued to Kingston citizens. Two of these permits were issued to persons who carry large sums of money in the course of their business, one was issued for bank messenger and one for three months period to a man in the fur business who carried large sums of money. Sixteen were issued to residents of the county. Of these, two were issued to trappers, one to a tax collector, one to a doctor, two were duplicates for permits lost, one was issued to a truckman who carried large sums of money, one to a guard, one to a cashier of a relief society who carries large sums of money, one to a dog warden and constable, two to truckmen-farmers who carry produce to market and return with large sums of money, one to a deputy sheriff, one to a deputy sheriff and constable, one to a mail carrier and one to a constable.

Strict on Issuance

Judge Cashin said that since he took office he had been very strict in the issuance of pistol permits and only issued them when every provision of the law had been complied with. Applications are filed in triplicate for every type of permit. A copy goes to the county clerk, State Police and one is retained in the Pistol Permit Bureau. In addition there is a special card form, which like the triplicate application, must have thereon the fingerprints of the applicant. This card is sent to the Department of Correction and a check is made there of fingerprints to ascertain whether the applicant has been involved with the law. After the fingerprints have been checked by the Department of Correction a report is made back to the Bureau with a report of the findings of the Department as to prior offenses of the applicant. All applications in the city of Kingston are referred to the Chief of Police for investigation and report and in the county applications are referred to the sheriff and reports are made back either recommending approval or disapproval. In addition when an application is made for a pistol permit, such applicant must supply at least three character references who must sign the application in their own hand writing stating that they are character witnesses for the applicant. Judge Cashin pointed out that it has always been his policy to issue pistol permits only where the applicant shows such permit is necessary and then only after all conditions of the law have been complied with.

Two Fires Break Out At Same N. Y. Hotel

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Two fires within seven hours at the 33-story Hotel Shelton on Lexington avenue last night and early today drove several hundred guests from their rooms and resulted in the death, police reported, of a man tentatively identified as Julius L. Goldsmith, about 80, a resident of the 1,200-room building. The first of the two fires occurred in a sub-cellar, when several electric cables were discovered smoldering shortly before 7 o'clock last night. The second, which broke out shortly after 1:30 a. m. today on the 14th floor, was of undetermined origin. Police reported Goldsmith was found lying in a badly-burned bed in his room.

Hull's Note Was Used by Japs As War Excuse

"I don't think he would have without informing the President, but he did it without informing the Army and Navy," replied Stark who was chief of naval operations at the time. "Did you see Marshall protest?" asked Gearhart, referring to Gen. George C. Marshall, then chief of staff.

"Not to my knowledge," replied Stark. Hull has already testified that the November 26 note contained nothing that a peaceful country could not accept, but that the Japanese were "hell-bent for war." There is also evidence that the task force which hit Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941 had already started before Hull gave the envoys the note.

Gearhart also discussed various testimony as to whether President Roosevelt expected war soon late in 1941, and on his surprise at the attack on Pearl Harbor. "Why is there an assertion one moment that the President was surprised, and at the next moment that he was not surprised?" the congressman asked. Stark compared it to the situation of a person who does not expect to get hurt, but takes precautions against the possibility. It is Gearhart's contention that Washington, admittedly surprised over the Pearl Harbor attack, acted curiously in criticizing Pearl Harbor commanders for being caught off guard.

ment. During this period he has worked his way up from the ranks of patrolman to head of the department. Chief Phinney was first appointed a special officer on January 2, 1906, and on May 17 of that year was named to serve as ordinance officer of the city. He was appointed a patrolman on December 7, 1909, and filled that post efficiently until February 6, 1917, when he was promoted to police sergeant. On September 1, 1937, he was appointed lieutenant, serving as such until December 1, 1939, when he was named acting chief of police on the retirement of Chief of Police J. Allan Wood.

Chief Since 1940

Chief Phinney was appointed to his present post on April 1, 1940. The advancement of Chief Phinney from the post of patrolman to head of the department is due to his efficient work during the years he has served as a police officer.

Newburgh Will Have Meters for Parking

Newburgh's city council unanimously voted to install parking meters on Newburgh's business streets on Wednesday, thereby climaxed a city-wide controversy that had raged intermittently for several years.

The resolution adopted by the council merely gives City Manager Joseph A. Fogarty the authority to order meter installation. Other details such as exact locations, type of meters to be installed and the earmarking of revenues from the meters, will be left for later decision.

Hitler Sought Peace

Nuernberg, Germany, Jan. 4 (AP)—Confidential papers of Adolf Hitler showed today that as early as the fall of 1940 Rudolf Hess, the deputy fuhrer, was working secretly to establish contacts with "reasonable Englishmen" to try to end the war. A detailed account of his efforts is contained in a 1,400-word report to Hitler written by Hess' intimate advisor, Dr. Albrecht Haushofer, May 25, 1941, shortly after the deputy fuhrer flew to England on his vain mission. Haushofer reported that at the end of September, 1940, barely a year after the war started, Hess was instrumental in sending a letter to the Duke of Hamilton through a prominent Swiss official of the International Red Cross.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Selected rails negotiated good recoveries in today's stock market while many leaders elsewhere continued slightly depressed.

Some buying eventuated on the idea the list may have been oversold in recent sessions. The darkening strike situation still was a handicap to speculative and investment participation. The President's broadcast failed to provide any real price stimulation.

Irregularly lower tendencies prevailed at the start. Support then arrived for the carriers, scattered industrials and utilities. Bidding was notably timid, though, and dealings slowed appreciably after a fairly active opening. Gains of fractions to a point or better were well distributed near the fourth hour.

In front most of the time were Chicago & Eastern Ill. Common and "A" the former at a new high; Chicago Great Western Common & Preferred, Baltimore & Ohio, Southern Railway, N. Y. Central, Woolworth, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, North American and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Vets Swell College

Enrollments for 1946
Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4 (AP)—New York's institutions of higher learning are prepared to open their doors to an estimated additional 50,000 students this year but the back-to-the-campus rush of war veterans appears headed toward a major obstacle in generally acute housing conditions.

A state-wide Associated Press survey of the 1946 educational picture shows college registrations swelling with the return of discharged servicemen but still below pre-war capacity enrollments.

The state's 36-degree-granting institutions and nine junior colleges last November listed 14,308 former G.I.s among the 141,934 full and part-time students, a ratio slightly better than one in ten.

Virtually all schools since have reported veteran applications on the sharp upgrade for the February and March terms.

The State Education Department, which says New York colleges can handle an additional 50,000 students if the housing problem is solved, expects graduations and withdrawals to create 20,000 more vacancies by September.

The department's total enrollment figure for the state in the pre-war year of 1911 was 161,515.

While the shelter-for-students problem—apparently most critical in cases of married veterans and in metropolitan centers where schools have many off-campus residents—emerges as a prime educational headache, some institutions also reported experiencing difficulties in obtaining qualified instructors.

Will Ask About Paroles

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 4 (AP)—Governor Dewey will ask the Legislature in his annual message next Wednesday for a law to permit the State Parole Board to terminate the parole of any honorably discharged war veteran.

Polish Corridor Obliteration Was Nazis' Main Aim

reasons behind the partially secret rearmament which began about ten years before Hitler came to power and was accentuated under Nazi rule.

Hitler Produced

"Before 1938-39, German generals were not opposed to Hitler. There was no reason to oppose Hitler since he produced the results which they desired. After this time, some generals began to condemn his methods and lost confidence in the power of his judgment. However, they failed as a group to take any definite stand against him although a few of them tried to do so and as a result had to pay with their lives or their positions."

"Shortly after my removal from the post of commander in chief of the armed forces in January, 1938, Hitler asked me to recommend a successor. I suggested Goering who was the ranking officer but Hitler objected because of his lack of patience and diligence."

Bloemberg's testimony came after two defendants were linked directly with concentration camp horrors.

"The most dramatic moment of the session came when Alois Hoelrich, former guard at the notorious Mauthausen death camp, rose from his seat and pointed a finger directly at Baldur von Schirach when asked to identify the defendant who visited Mauthausen in 1942.

Accused Uneasy

The one-time strutting head of the Hitler youth movement, who prior to the trial contended he was unaware of concentration camp horrors, moved uneasily as all eyes in the courtroom turned on him.

Then he leaned forward and whispered to Reichsmarschal Hermann Goering, who sat nearby.

Another witness—Walter Schellenberg, former SS Brigade leader and chief of the Nazi Police Foreign Intelligence Service—testified earlier that Ernst Kaltenbrunner, gangling Gestapo chief, personally gave orders for the mass evacuation of thousands of weakened concentration camp inmates in the path of the advancing Allied armies.

Contrary to Himmler

This was in direct contradiction of Heinrich Himmler's orders. Schellenberg testified, and was contrary to the word which had been sent to General Eisenhower that starving inmates would be left behind to be rescued by the Allies.

Successful Year Is Reported by Nursery

has been very successful during the past year. It was said today by Adjutant Arthur Noble of that organization.

In speaking of the work of conducting the nursery he said that through the efforts of the Junior League a piano had been installed. The pupils of the high school, particularly the Prisma Society, visited the children periodically, while those in the art classes painted pictures of the nursery rhymes for the walls of the nursery.

During the past year pupils of Miss Lena Schmidt (Knox) and Miss L. Luther gave musical entertainments, and at the Christmas season several organizations and individuals gave toys for the Christmas party.

Adjutant Noble said that the organization distributed baskets of food to needy families during the holiday season, and it is planned to send out a number of appeals in order to set up a maintenance fund for the local work.
